

Contact: Sean Winkler, Director of Advocacy, REMSA
(202) 715-2917 // winkler@remsa.org

REMSA Announces Soucie as Chief Operating Officer, Winkler as Director of Advocacy

Washington, DC – Today, the Railway Engineering-Maintenance Suppliers Association (REMSA) Executive Committee announced the promotion of Urszula Soucie to Chief Operating Officer and Sean Winkler to Director of Advocacy. The changes are effectively immediately.

“The REMSA Board feels that these promotions will create a strong management team led by our Executive Director/CEO David Tennent,” said REMSA Board President, Bruce Wise. “We are pleased to see the growth our internal team has displayed and strongly believe they are well-qualified to guide REMSA through the challenges and opportunities we face moving forward.”

“Our staff has been an integral part in REMSA’s success in trade shows, attracting membership, and implementing our efforts in Washington” said David Tennent. “Ms. Soucie and Mr. Winkler have been tremendous assets to our organization and we could not be prouder of the growth they both have achieved. They will both be integral parts of REMSA’s future success.”

Ms. Soucie has been with REMSA since 2011, having previously served as Director of Trade Shows & Operations. She is responsible for growing and maintaining REMSA’s membership, administering REMSA’s member benefit programs, organizing REMSA conferences and exhibitions, and overseeing day-to-day management of the organization. Ms. Soucie is a graduate of McGill University, holding a B.A. in Humanistic Studies.

Mr. Winkler joined REMSA in 2015, having previously served as Grassroots Coordinator. He was responsible for building REMSA’s grassroots program, advancing the organization’s media priorities, and supporting rail industry initiatives in Washington, DC. In his new role, Mr. Winkler will coordinate supplier grassroots efforts, expanding REMSA’s advocacy efforts in Congress and the Administration, and develop new member value and press initiatives. He is a graduate of the University of Maryland, holding a B.A. in Government and Politics.

REMSA is a non-profit trade group representing over 340 railway engineers, contractors, and consultants and maintenance-of-way suppliers across the country. The $5 billion railroad maintenance-of-way industry supports over 35,000 jobs nationwide.